Capital City Guards.

At a meeting of this well-known colored military organization held Thursday it was decided to accept the invitation of the Gray Invincibles to visit them shortly after the October celebration. A nulform overcoat of dark blue, with buff-lined cape, made by Leeds, of Philadet-phie, was adopted. Five active members were phie, was adopted. Five active members were elected. Recently Sergeant Smallwood, of the corps, was presented by the Washington City Cadets with a handsome sword. The City Guard is the colored company which, on the occasion of the unveiling of the Farraguit status, attracted so much attention by their fine marching and soldierly spararance. They number saxy uniformed men, and under the efficient command of Cartain Thomas Keily hid fair to make one of the best drilled companies in the District. They have smong their honorary members some of the most prominent chizens both white and colored.

Scooped Again and Comptaining. When the managing editor of an alleged morning newspaper comes to his sanctum after a long absence and finds his paper "scooped" on an interview with Vesnor by the only newson an interview with vessor by the only news-paper in town, he straightway goes for his deceller staff and makes it warm for them. The staff swear that Vennor didn't interview worth a cent, and that it must have been stolen from another paper. This is a happy thought for the staff, and the M. E. books it it his alleged newspaper the next morning, and in doing it is diplomatic emough to compliment an alleged evening news-paper. The excuse of the staff shall not be denied by us. We will give them another chance—to get scooped.

MORE GOOD ROWING.

LAST DAY OF THE AMATEUR REGATTA.

Series of Exciting Contests-The Hillsdales Again the Victors in the Fours-With That Exception Not a Specially Good Day for the Favorites.

The annual regatta of the National Association of Amister Oarmen closed yesterday, and the second day's races were equally as well-contested as the day before. The time made in every rare was good, and in many instances it was remarkable. The reputation of the association, as well as that of the individual crows, was fully sus-tained. The weather yesterday was again in favor of the paramen, and while there was not as much breeze as on the previous day, the clouds obscured the sun and the heat was not so oppressive. There was annuch largercowd to witness the races and a great deal of cuthuslasm manifested.

Arlington.—S. D. J. R. Gittens, Jr mer. Baltimore, T. Orjonal and J. Gittens, Jr mer. Baltimore, T. Orjonal and Jr mer. Baltimo The contesting crows as they neared the finish were inspired to renewed efforts by the encourag-ing abouts, and as they returned to their boatuses they were received with repeated rounds of applause. The crowd on the shore amused them-solves by watching the occupants of the numerous small boats that darted from shore to shore, and criticized in a familiar way the stroke of the smateurs who were laboring over the oars. Small boys and men vended ice-water at a penny a glass and found plenty of customers, while booths were crected at different points for the sale of watermel-ous, grapes, and beer. The river steamers had their fair quota of the crowd, while on the Virginla shore there were

A MULTITUDE OF SMALL BOATS and yachts, and the occupants had a regular pic nic. All these boats were in the course, but, as the alleged committee of arrangements had included the Virginia shore in the course, it could not very well be otherwise, unless they had all been cleared out, which, however, was not attempted. The re-puts was a grand success. But the people of the trict can say to the committee of arrangements With no credit to you and no discredit to us, the egatta is a success," and, at the same time they an thank Fortune that it was so. Their arrangeents were like the evolution theory of creation lightly modified-a fortultous concurrence of cir instances—and a special day of thanksgiving uld be set apart for the people of the District to thank Fortune that she so kindly intervened to bring success out of failure.

THE RACER.

Promptly at half-past two the first race, pair-oared shells, was started, the following being the entries: Detroit scaliers, Detroit, Mich.: John H. Clare how, F. D. Standiel, weeks to be a standiely started by the New York. Clegg, bow : F. D. Standish, stroke. Ariel, Newark, N. J.: Frederick Freeman, bow: Frederick Walts, stroke, Albany, Albany, N.Y.: T. J. Gorman, bow; R. T. Gorman, stroke, Mutual, Albany, N. Y.: Charles E. Bulger, bow; Silas Brewster, stroke. In the few pools sold the pair from Detroits were the favorites, and from start to finish the result was never in doubt so far as they were concerned The Mutuals, of Albany, made a desperate attempt to catch the leaders near the finish, but were not equal to the trans.

There were three entries for the second race, x-cared shells, as follows: Hureks, Newark, N J.: William Clark, Jr., bow; M. H. Jury, William Moffatt, Peter Sexton, Thomas Pilkington; George R. McCall, stroke. Institute, Newark, N. J.; J. J. Cohurn, tow: M. J. McGedney, M. K. Harris, O. F. Conlon, T. J. Lapsley; J. P. Henderson, stroke, Shawmut, Boston, Mass.: J. F. Healey, bow: C. H. McLaughiin, D. J. Murphy, J. R. Doyle, E. Hayden; W. R. Kent, stroke. Early in the contest the struggle was narrowed down to the Eurekas and the Shawmuts, and a beautiful exhibition of oarsnauship rewarded the spectators. Eureka main-sized the advantage, but about one hundred yards rom the finish the lads from the Hub drew up on even terms and looked dangerous. The Eurekas inally shook them off and passed over the line two clear lengths ahead in 8:211/4. The Shawmuts' time was 8:29,

THIRD BACE. The final heat of the junior single-sculls was the third event on the card, and the following quartettes started for the trophy: Mutual Boat Clab, Albany, N. Y.; William Riley, Pawtucket Boat Clab, Pawtucket, R. L.; F. G. Appley, Dolphin Boat Clab, Boston, Mass.; A. T. O'Brien, Centen-nial Boat Clab, Detroit, Mich.; C. Schweikart. Appley was looked upon as a sure winner of this race, and his friends were not at all averse to backing their opinion with money. The field, however, was a strong one, and bets were nearly even. Ap-pley cut out the work from the start, but O'Brien as not to be shaken off, and pushed the favorite until within a few lengths of the finish, when he spurted ahead, winner of the race in %4234. Ap-pley's time was %4134.

FOURTH BACK. The fourth race was the final heat of the senior single-senils, and a strong trio were pitted against cach other, comprising: Portland Boat Club, Portland, Me.: John Buckley, Grand Trunk Boat Club, Montreal, Joanne Joseph Laing. Pawtucket Rott an assault upon B. L. Berry, the particulars of Club, Pawtucket, R. L.: F. E. Holmes. The exhibition made the previous day by Laing caused him to be regarded as a dangerous competitor, and he readily brought $50 against $55 for the field. The result, however, proved that he was in too fast each other, comprising: Portland Boat Club, Portesult, however, proved that he was in too fast company, and he finished a poor third. Holmes and Buckley had it lively all the way from the start, but the Pawtucket representative pushed his boat in front by a scant length in 9:00%, Buckley eling just 314 seconds behind him.

FIFTH BACE. The fifth race was the final heat of the four-oared ass, in which the following crews started: Eliza-eth Boat Club, Portsmouth, Va.: John Murray, ow ; Peter McGrath, 2; T. F. Riley, 3; D. Callahan, stroke, Minnesota Boat Club, 8t. Paul, Minn.; H. M. Builer, bow; A. McLaren, 2; J. J. Parker, 3; icorge J. Bocker, stroke. Hillsdale Boat Club, Hillsdale, Mich.: C. W. Terwilliger, bow; H. P. Mond, 2; L. F. Beckbardt, 3, E. B. Van Volkenburg, stroke. In the pools the Hillsdale crew were barred, and the Minnesota and Elizabeth fours sold on even terms. The race was never in doubt, as the Hillsdales jumped away in the lead and were never overtaken, winning as they pleased in 8:061%. The Minnesota four finished accord, in 8:21%, fully twenty-five lengths in front of the Virginia oarsmen. SIXTH RACE. For the sixth race, final heat, double-sculls, there were four crews entered, their names being : Athletic Boat Club, New York city: Joseph L. Davis, bow: Mark G. Davis, stroke. Pawtucket Boat Club, Pawtucket, R. I.: F. G. Appley, bow; Frank E. Holmes stroke. Nautilus Boat Club, Hamilton, Canada: C. Furlong, bow; J. Dono-lee, stroke. Mutual Boat Club, Albany, N. Y.; Charles E. Bulger, bow: Shas Brewster, stroke. The Pawtucket pair had the call in the betting market, the Davis brothers being second choice, while the Canadian representatives sold in the field with the Mutuals. It was evident from the outset that Holmes and Appley were sure winners, or, although pushed for the first mile by the Da-is pair, they forged ahead when the time came for a spurt, and passed over the line to 8:39%, fully five lengths shead of the Daviscs, whose time was 852. The Nautilus finished a bad fourth, being easily beaten by the Mutual two. Time of winners, 7:5116

CONCLUDING BACE. The last race of the day and regetta was for elgiri-cared shells, for which three crews entered, is follows: Metropolitan, New York: A. J. Schrenkicisen, bow; R. H. Schiele, M. P. Ryan, W. J. Jooper, P. E. Nagle, J. Russell, W. Appe; J. Pilkigton, stroke; F. E. Schrenkbeisen, coxswain, Potonne, Georgetown: S. H. Wheeler, bow; S. E. Wheatley, W. C. McKinney, Edward Derrick, F. M. Pearson, F. H. Barbarin, A. B. Cropley; T. S. Cropley, stroke; W. F. Roberts, coxswain. Narra-gausett, Providence, R. L. H. W. Rice, bow; C. A. Burbauk, J. L. Cattanach, E. H. Tingley, H. A. Kirby, J. W. Moore, Clinton Hale; F. D. Livermore stroke; Daniel J. Boyd, coxswain. The Narra-gausett eight sold as second choice in the pools, the Metropolitans being the favorites. The three erews got off on even terms, but at the half the Narraganset's crept ahead, and slithough the Metropolitans put in some good work, they were unable to close the gap, and had to content themselves with second place, the Potomac eight being listanced. PRESENTATION OF PRIZES. The presentation of prizes to the victors in the two days' contests will take place this morning at the Arlington Hotel, and Hon. J. H. Sypher will deliver the address. An excursion was given last evening on the steamer Corcoran in honor of the visitors by the Columbia and Analostan Boat Clubs. The attendance was large and select, and the affair was entirely enjoyable and successful, proving a futing finale to the great regata. The local committee of arrangements during the regatta was as follows: Messra, John W. Corson, W. H. Gibson, J. S. Zeigler, G. G. Kimball, Fred. Wright, O. T. Brice, W. H. McKenney, E. S. Maun-der, Andy Emith, M. M. Parker, and Samuel

Inside and Outside. The improvements in the interior of the National Theatre are of a substantial character, and reflect credit upon the good taste and judgment of Manager Albaugh, who here the expense. If the outside of the building could be touched up with paint it would not look so repulsive. The exterior is absolutely dirty in appearance, and the woodd dilapidated bill-boards in front of the brilding are an eye-sore. Mr. Rapley should get a force of painters and change all this.

In the Police Court yesterday morning

The New Jersey Republican Association have elected the following officers for the ensuing year: J. W. Starr, president; Edward Salter, first vice president; Theodore Swazey, second vice-president; Josiah Shaw, secretary; S. E. Gough, corresponding secretary; D. L. Bine, treasurer; executive contaittee, George Dixon, J. W. Howell, B. F. Worrell, J. T. Van Orsdale, M. L. Ackerman, S. E. Gough, and E. N. Reed.

In the Police Court-yesterday Thornton Jackson was arraigned for carrying concealed weapons. Thornton, it appears, is the janitor of a hall on Eleventh, between C and D streets, in which the Capital City Guard meet, and the night previous presented a bill for rent in an unmilitary manner. This brought on a row, during which Thornton drew an ugly-looking knife, but did not use it. The case was dismissed.

Workmen are busily engaged on the new O Street Market, and the indications are that it will be completed by the 25th of the present month. The building is of brick, laid in black mortar, and fronts 150 feet on Seventh street and 85 feet on O street, with room for ninety-six stalls. A tower about firty feet high ornaments the cor-ner. A fish market 42 by 42 feet will at once be erected north of the main building.

Equal Division, Sons of Temperance, held another of its interesting open meetings last night. Notwithstanding the hot weather there was a full attendance. The exercises consisted of addresses by Mrs. B. A. Lockwood and Captain McConnell, recitations by Mrs. Naylor and Mr. Add Welch, and music by Mrs. Blanche Mattingly, Mrs. S. II. Jeco, and Messra. E. J. Whipple, I. L. Parkhurst, and F. A. Grant. The next public meeting will be held October 6.

In the Police Court vesterday Judge In the Police Court yesterday Judge Snell, after a lecture, sentenced Michael Caton, a burly white man, to jail for six months for assaulting his wife, Rosanna Caton. She testified that he came home on Wednesday evening "drunk and like a raging wild beast," and beat her cruelly, blackening her eyes and bruising her body and tearing out large tufts of her bair. Had not the neighbors interfered she believed he would have killed her.

by the following notices:

"Rooms for Rent," a new farcical comedy in four acts, was produced at Ford's last night, and the result was a decided and instantaneous hit. The play has so many funny situations that the audience was keptin a constant roar of laughter. It is full of movement. The place was evidently intended to strike the keynote of popular feeling, and in this it is a great success. Mr. Holst made a decided hit, as the Danish Daniengmoster, and his ballet dancing in the fourth act brought down the house. He is really a wonderful character comedian. The rest of the gentlemen acquited themselves admirably. Of the ladies, Miss Fietcher carried off the honors of the evening as Mrs. Culter. She is a capital southerne. Mrs. Fanny McNiel, as Mrs. was delightful, and looked and acted her part superbly. Miss Reynoids, as Mics. Ecouritia, acted creditably, and song several selections in good style. The well-mounted piece was received with great favor, and is sure to have crowded houses here this week.—Guette.

—Gizelle.

At Ford's Opera-House last night "Rooms for Rent" was greatly enjoyed by quite a large audience. It is a tarcleal conedy full of laughter-provoking incidents and effects well suited for the season, and illustrating many amusing incidents of every-day life. The characters are eccentric, but not unnatural,—Sen.

The engagement of Miss Jennie Lee at Haverly's Fourteenth Street Theatre during the past two weeks has been one of the marked events in New York theatricals. The press of that city have been unstinted in their praises of this young lady's ren-dition of the character of Jo in the dramatiza-tion of Dickens' Bleak House, and Washington s fortunate in having at so early a day an oppor unity to witness it. The Herald speaks of "the wonderful playing of the English actress. Miss Jennie Lee, in the title role. She was welcomed by a full house, and her artistic playing was en-thusiastically applauded. Her impersonation was startling in its realism and absolutely painful in A runaway horse visited the Federal its pathes. The feminine portion of the au-dience ruined their handkerchiefs, and some of their escorts turned on the waterworks. The impersonation is one to be seen and remembered." Dramatic News says: "Miss Jennie Lee is now in her last week at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, of William Henry Johnson, who lives on Jefferson her last week at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, street, near the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, West where she has done a deservedly fair business. Excursion Notes.

To-morrow and every morning until Sunay, September 18, the steamer J. W. Thompson will make her trip to Lower Cedar Point, leaving at half-past eight o'clock. A brass and string band accompanies each trip, and fine fresh systems, flab, and crabs are prominent on the bill of fare. The bathing is still excellent. Tickets, fifty cents. The steamer Mary Washington will make only three more trips to the rementle Occoquan Falls this season, viz.; to-morrow, Monday, and Wednerday. This is a delightful trip at small expense.

During the absence of the jailor of Chesterfield County a few days ago Pete Jones broke into the house adjoining the jail and had packed up a number of valuables. The early return of Mr. Coshill prevented his departure, and Pete soon found himself behind the bars.

Mr. John Wren was employed to investirate the mysterious absence of Mrs. Harvey, but being engaged in other urgent business he sent his assistant, Mr. Fitch, down to West Point several days ago. Mr. Fitch telegraphed the following "West Point, Va., Sept. 3.—Party went visiting. I know the route. No foul play. I will write to-morrow."

The annual fires have broken out in the Dismal Swamp, and are now raging, caused by the excessive drouth. An area of tweive ratles is said to be already swept over, and great damage is apprehended before the confiagration exhausts itself. Over the Norfolk and Western road, beyond Suffolk, fires have been lively in the woods for several days, and very annoying to the passing trains.

The death of Professor Lewis Temple Gwathmey occurred at Bear Island, his mother's residence, in Hanover County Thursday afternoon. Several weeks ago he returned from Alabama with malarial fever, which, assuming a typhoid form, proved fatal. Mr. Peachy R. Grattan, the reporter of the Court of Appeals, died at Ashland on Thursday night, at five minutes past ten o'clock. Mr. Grattan had been in poor health for several years, though he had lost but little time from his laborious post. For more than a month his lilness was severe, but until a day or two ago his relatives and riends had reason to hope that he would recover. Thursday morning some of his intimate associates were notified that be could hardly live throughout the day, and before eleven o'clock at night his son-in-law, Mr. Otho G. Kean, telegraphed the news of his death, Mr. Grattan was born hear Harrisonburg, in Rockingham County, and was eighty-one years of age. He had the advantage of careful classical and legal training. His practice was chiefly in chartery matters, and his exactness and fine perception of haw points were soon generally recognized. About 1840 or 1841 Mr. Grattan was elected reporter of the highest court in the State, and in that service he spent the best and last years of his life. As a law-yer he will be cheerfully accorded a high rank. Grattan's Reports will live to bear record to his accuracy, clearness of analysis, and unwearying industry.
